

Euromonitor
International

Top Five Trends in Hot Drinks

January 2025

Table of Contents

Our expert's view of hot drinks in 2025

Key findings

INTRODUCTION

The hot drinks industry in an era of perpetually high prices

Top five trends in hot drinks

Top five trends uncovered

HIGH PRICES, FRUSTRATED CONSUMERS

Input costs will remain a major problem for the industry in 2025

Consumer anger about price levels will take a long time to dissipate

Additional price rises will have larger impacts on volumes than in the past

Stop & Shop highlights its affordable but premium new line of coffee

High prices levels, unhappy consumers, and the challenge of 2025

THE NARROWING PREMIUMISATION WINDOW

Premiumisation is becoming harder but is by no means impossible

The three core paths to premiumisation in 2025

A stressful 2025 will demand hot drinks products that provides bursts of joy

Republic of Tea leverages multiple premium attributes

Premiumisation may be challenging, but it remains of great importance

WELLNESS IN A CHAOTIC WORLD

Wellness spending gains a greater share of discretionary consumer spending

Ultra-processed foods: How will hot drinks be affected by the backlash?

Hot drinks in the age of Ozempic

Golden Milk responds to demographic shifts in wellness needs

Wellness is becoming more and more important to hot drinks

EFFICIENCY DISRUPTS THE ROLE OF FOODSERVICE

The coffee shop is becoming a place where drinks are made, not consumed

China is increasingly the source of global industry growth and trends

Will the loneliness epidemic slow the spread of this new model?

Cofe+ delivers coffee on the go without human intervention

Technology is disrupting the coffee shop, and the industry will have to adapt

AFFORDABLE SUSTAINABILITY

Making sustainability work in a budget-conscious era

Doubling up: Premiumisation through sustainability plus something else

Alternatives continue to grow but they remains small slivers of the total market

2050 Coffee educates consumers, while offering quality

Becoming more challenging has not made sustainability less important

CONCLUSION

Future implications

Challenges and opportunities in 2025

About Euromonitor International

Euromonitor International is an independent market intelligence provider. Data, insight and analysis stem from in-the-field research spanning 210 national markets.

Content ranges from the in-depth and country-specific, to key strategic themes with a global range and significance. Products cover a comprehensive range of insights and market data, but can be broadly categorised as:

- Strategy Briefings: Global or regional in scope, and focussing on the most important themes shaping consumer demand, the key markets, competitive environment and future outlook across a range of industries.
- Company Profiles: Analysis dedicated to the world's most significant companies, with detailed insight into their activities, focus of operations, their competitors, their geographic presence and performance.
- Country Reports: For an in-depth understanding of specific countries, whether by industry, economic metrics or consumer trends and lifestyles. These reports cover current trends, consumer demand, market potential and future prospects, with country-specific local insight and comprehensive data, unavailable elsewhere.

For more information on this report, further enquiries can be directed via this link www.euromonitor.com/top-five-trends-in-hot-drinks/report.